

Proud To Be British!

Based in York -
Manufacturing in Gateshead

Not only are we proud to make our own steel equipment, but even more so to fabricate it in the UK.

Our Gateshead fabrication facility continues to produce high quality robust equipment that has been proven 'in the field' to last the test of time.

Our simple aim has not changed since we were founded in 2001 - to produce equipment that not only looks good now, but for years to come, and that can be kept in use with minimal ongoing maintenance costs.

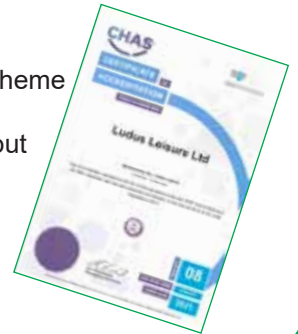

Lüdüs

Update - March 2020

Chas Accreditation

We were successfully externally audited in January 2020 and our Contractors Health and Safety Scheme (CHAS) accreditation renewed. It's important not only for Ludus, but also for everyone to know we are not only doing things safely, but that we are constantly striving to improve moving forward.

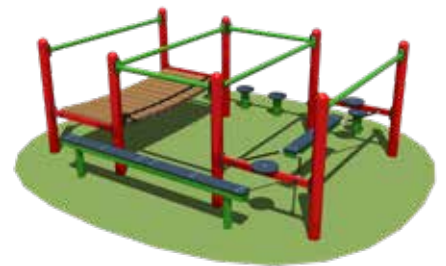

Have a Seat...

or a bench, or a picnic table. Not only is our furniture robust, you can also choose from a range of main stream colours so it matches your park. Flat packed and easy to install, what's not to like?

New Steel Agility Trails

Tired of your timber trails rotting or being damaged by strimming, why not choose one of our NEW steel trail configurations?

Available as individual items, as a trail or as a circuit, and in a choice of colours to help fit in with your current equipment.

This robust NEW Agility range enjoys the same methodologies and fixing detail as our tried and tested multi-play ranges.

*Planning a new play area or updating an existing one, why not take advantage of our free, no obligation design and quotation service ...

Ludus and Lappset Working Together

We are proud of our own equipment and also of our partnership with Lappset meaning we can provide the best of both worlds, with British or Continental styling. It doesn't have to be either or, Ludus and Lappset equipment can sit hand in hand alongside and complement each other, as seen here with a Ludus steel Multi-play Unit and a Lappset Bouldering Cube working well together in one setting.

Recently Installed!

This impressive Lappset Activity Centre sits proud and prominent as the play area's centrepiece. Standing 6 metres tall and with its 5 slides and 7 towers there's plenty to keep all ages and abilities occupied, or simply take in the surrounding views from the 'look-out' area. The Activity Centre is part of the Finno collection, primarily timber (with steel feet) and is available in several colour schemes.

What's New to Lappset?

Lappset introduced the HALO DIAMOND to their Halo range earlier in the year - turning the traditional Cubic on a tilt and challenging the ability to climb, balance and navigate in order to reach the exit through the tube-slide!

The FLORA range continues to grow. This great looking product range has soft and undulating lines providing a wonderful alternative to Robinia but with the added longevity of having steel feet. Big or small it looks equally as good in any play area.

New to the Team

We recently welcomed two new members to the Ludus Team - Jason Hazelwood joined our head office in Easingwold, near York as Production & Design Manager and Rod Newton started as Production Assistant at our fabrication facility in Gateshead.

Keep Things Looking Good

To help keep your equipment in tip-top condition for years to come, we provide a FREE selection of fixings, caps and fixing tools so any remedial repairs can hopefully be carried out straight away.
